

Who says a penny doesn't buy you anything?

With this easy test, a penny can buy you peace of mind when it comes to your tires and safety.

The penny test is a simple trick to help you determine if your tires should be replaced. Simply turn a penny upside down and insert it between your tire treads. If all of Lincoln's head is exposed, it's time to replace your tires. This trick works because there is 1/16 of an inch between the top of Lincoln's head and the edge of the penny which is the minimum legal limit for tread depth.
